ZTM & BPD Unit and the Division of FS & PHT, ICAR-IARI are organizing Agripreneurship Development Program on “Recent Avenues in Food Processing for Agritech Startups” from 8- 13 September, 2025.

Objective:

- To expose aspiring entrepreneurs and agritech startups on emerging food processing technologies.
- To strengthen the skills and knowledge of agripreneures focusing on processing techniques.
- To demonstrate the innovative technologies for market demand food products.
- To demonstrate the significance of Good Manufacturing and Handling Practices, FSSAI regulation quality assurance and standards, role of AI in food etc. and to layout procedures of obtaining necessary licenses and certifications.

Outcomes of Training

This training course is designed to empower a new generation of food entrepreneurs. Its core outcome is to equip aspiring entrepreneurs and agritech startups with a comprehensive and practical understanding of cutting-edge food processing technologies, demonstrating innovative techniques that directly address current market demands for food products. Participants will significantly strengthen their skills and knowledge through hands on training in diverse processing techniques, enabling them to transform raw agricultural. Attendees will gain an in-depth understanding of Good Manufacturing and Handling Practices (GMHP), navigate the intricacies of FSSAI (Food Safety and Standards Authority of India) regulations and grasp essential quality assurance and standards. Furthermore, the course will highlight the evolving role of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in the food sector, demonstrating how technology can optimize processes and enhance product development. In essence, this training aims to bridge the gap between agricultural innovation and market readiness, fostering the development of compliant, high-quality and competitive food processing startups.
